

Local Tournaments for Sensei Sandy Parents

Hi Jiu Jitsu People,

Here is a simple planning sheet for upcoming BJJ gi tournaments. This is not a requirement to compete. It is a guide to help families understand which events may be a good fit.

Please verify each event page before registering because dates, brackets, rules, and deadlines can change.

Upcoming BJJ Gi Tournament Options

Best first-time kid event

Rollstar Kids Rumble

May 17, Hackensack, NJ

This looks like the best beginner-friendly option for younger athletes. Its a local NJ school hosting a kids tournament for beginner and intermediate competitors. A strong first-tournament choice. We seek to emulate this offering in Tannersville, NY.

Best charity and family-style events

Tap Cancer Out Connecticut BJJ Open

May 2, Fairfield, CT

Tap Cancer Out Long Island BJJ Open

October 24, Bethpage, NY

The Battle BJJ “BFA 2”

May 2, Milford, PA

These are good family-centered events with a cause attached. Tap Cancer Out events should be registered through the Tap Cancer Out tournament platform, not Smoothcomp alone. I snapped my humorous at an event a decade ago. I would recommend being the person making the tap or do the tapping instead.

Best events for more matches

Grappling Industries Connecticut

August 22, Newtown, CT

Grappling Industries Connecticut

December 12, New Haven, CT

Grappling Industries Brooklyn

May 9, Brooklyn, NY

Grappling Industries Brooklyn

August 8, Brooklyn, NY

Grappling Industries Brooklyn

November 14, Brooklyn, NY

Grappling Industries usually offers a round-robin format. Great for getting matches. The operator is super friendly. Kiley still has credit for a match at one.

Best serious gi tests

NAGA Connecticut Grappling Championship

June 13, Newtown, CT

Newbreed Connecticut Summer Championship

Screenshot shows July 25, Newtown, CT

PBJJF North American Jiu-Jitsu Championship

August 8, Madison, NJ

World Jiu Jitsu Tour: New York Open

May 23, Queens, NY

These are better for athletes who are ready for a more competitive regional tournament environment. Parents should double-check gi divisions, belt level, experience level, weigh-in rules, and travel logistics before registering. The Osoto Gari Boiz are well acclaimed in Albany at the recent NAGA event.

Other regional options

Good Fight: Scranton Scramble

June 13, Scranton, PA

PRIDE 59

June 6, West Hempstead, NY

The Battle BJJ Series 8

June 13, West Hempstead, NY

These may be useful depending on travel, teammate attendance, and the athlete's readiness. Good Fight is fun because its Submission Only. Ice is on deck for popparookis.

Important Schedule Conflicts

May 2 has both:

Battle BJJ BFA 2 in Milford, PA

Tap Cancer Out CT in Fairfield, CT

June 13 has three possible events:

NAGA Connecticut

Good Fight Scranton Scramble

Battle BJJ Series 8

Families should choose based on distance, athlete readiness, and whether teammates or coaches are attending. Pathway Martial Arts and Ascended Jiu Jitsu have reached out on collaborating to improve our competitive landscape.

Parent Registration Checklist

Before registering, please confirm:

Gi division exists

Age group is correct

Belt or skill level is correct

Weight class is realistic

Registration edit deadline

Refund policy

Weigh-in time

Uniform rules

Whether your child is doing gi only or gi plus no-gi

For kids, please do not cut weight. Choose the safest correct division.

What to Bring

Clean gi

Belt

Sandals or slides

Water

Simple snacks

Hoodie or warm layer

Something calm to do between matches

The goal is to have fun. Often the young athletes learn and get better in a day of matches than in a month of classes.
